En Route to Dawson, But Never Reached the Springs.

Esquire Henry A. Armistead, of near Indian Mound, Tenn., died Tuesday evening at the home of his brother, Dr. J. R. Armistead, in this city, of kidney trouble. He had been in bad health for six months and decided to try the Dawson Springs water. While en route to that place about two weeks ago he was taken much worse and stopped over here with his brother, thinking that he could complete the trip in a few days, but he gradually grew worse and death resulted. He had been a justice of the peace for a long time and was a very prominent and influential citizen.

He was 60 years old and leaves four children, two of whom were with him when the summons came. The body was taken to Tennessee Wednesday morning and the interment took place near Indian Mound.

NOT AT LAFAYETTE

Was the Recent Southall-Clardy Tragedy.

Lafayette, Ky., August 2.—The tragedy reported in the KENTUCKIAN of Aug. 1st, as having occurred at Lafayette is altogether a mistake so far as the location goes. It occurred in Montgomery county, Tennessee, near Jordan Spring, about 10 or 12 miles from Lafayette.

The particulars, as we have gathered them, are about as reported. Lafayette has enough tragedies of her own to bear, without bearing others laid at her door.

Month's Suffering.

Mrs. Hattie West, wife of Mr. Wallace West, of Beverly, died at the home of Mr. W. W. West, near Church Hill, Wednesday morning after an illness of one month, of fever. The remains were laid to rest in the Southall graveyard, near Pee Dee, yesterday afternoon.

NINE GOOSE EGGS

Scored by the Local Ball Team
Here Wednesday.

In the game of ball here Wednesday between the Louisville Reserves and the local team the visiting nine was victorious, the score being 16 to 0. The local team put in their best battery for yesterday's game and the result was expected to be different, but we went to press before the score was announced. Good crowds witnessed the games. In the last inning of Wednesday's contest Jeff. Morris, catcher for the locals, had two his of fingers on his right hand broken. His injury, while quite painful, will not prove serious, it is hoped.

Allensville will not be here until next week. Paducah may play here Friday.

PHILIPPINE LETTER.

Lannes Huggins Writes Entertainingly From Iloilo.

A Hopkinsville Boy's Soldier Experience In the Asiatic Colony.

Iloilo, Panay Island, May 17, '99.

EDITOR KENTUCKIAN:—

Everything has not been so quiet here for the last few days. They searched the town and all the lighters in the river looking for arms last Saturday but did not find any. We expected an attack last Sunday night or Monday, and we were looking for a street fight. All of the boys on detached duty were ordered to report to their companies at once at the sound of call "To arms."

I am on detached duty as inspector of customs and was on the "Zuvenia." We worked until noon Sunday so as to finish loading her. She left here at 7:30 p. m. Sunday so I went down to the office and cleaned up my gun to get ready for action and I had nothing to do until eight o'clock Monday morning. I went out to the Co., so that if we had any trouble I would be there, but it was as quiet as ever.

A few shots were fired on the line of the 18th Regulars but not one on our lines. Although everything seems quiet now we would not be surprised to have a scrap at any time. The gunboats Princeton, Yorktown and Bennington are here and were cleared for action Sunday night.

It rains here three or four times during the day and nearly all night. I call this the rainy season but the people here say it doesn't set in before the middle of next month. The boys are having a tough time out on the lines now, although they go on guard only every fourth day and they have a tent at each outpost, but it rains so much and the mosquitoes are about to devour them.

My company is not faring so well now, they have eaten all the chickens they could find and they did not have any fresh beef for three weeks until yesterday. The "Indiana" came down from Manila with a lot of beef. They intend to begin killing beef here, a boat load of cattle came up from Cebu last Sunday.

I have been in the office all this week; no ships have come in. I went out to the company last night and had a nice time. We had several chicken fights and after that was over we went to a house near our quarters where they had a piano and had a "stag" dance and stayed there until taps.

Six or eight boys in our regiment received discharges in yesterday's mail. They will go to Manila tomorrow and will sail for Frisco on the first transport.

Pay-day is the most interesting thing with us now. We have not been paid for March and April yet but are looking for the paymaster on every boat that comes from Manila.

June 1st, '99.—Still quiet but insurgents are giving trouble on Negros. They intend to lay a cable to Negros. The boat went to Negros to begin work Saturday. Four men were ambushed, two were killed and two taken as prisoners.

A captain and two privates of the signal corps were ambushed the same day. The boat came back and notified Gen. Smith. He sent company M. of the 18th there. There are eight companies of the "Gallant 1st California" (as the Frisco papers say) stationed there, but they could not do what was wanted. The captain's body was found cut to pieces in a river.

I am now on a British steamer, Ayr, she is taking sugar and will go to Delaware breakwater. She is a large ship and will carry 44,000 tons.

The rainy season has set in. Some days it rains two feet and a half. The outposts have to swim to the barracks. Our battalion has moved to Jarot escape high waters. Jarot is three miles from Iloilo and no one is there but soldiers. The transports "Warren" and "Morgan City" brought 370 recruits for the 18th regiment Monday. They expect 400 more in a few days.

Everyone thinks that the volunteers who enlisted for the Spanish-American war will soon be mustered out.

I can't see why they don't send more troops here and let us do whatever we are going to do. It seems that they have troops for Cebu and Negros but none for Iloilo.

I wish that you could have seen the "rukies" that came here for the 18th regulars. They are already sick of the Philippines. I went up to Company "D," of the 18th, for supper and the "rukies" lined up together: they had salmon and beans for supper. All of us talked like we had not had any salmon for a long time (really the company has almost lived on canned beef, beans and salmon for two months), and when the cooks began to give out supper and of course the "rukies" got their first. We old boys spoke two or three at a time and told the cooks not to give the "rukies" so much for we wanted a little and we wanted to know if there would be any second detail on beans. The "rukies" looked as if to say, "If I ever get home you will never get me in the army again." After supper one of the old boys said, "Well, after you boys have served two years they will raise your wages one dollar a month." Just then two of the "rukies" said, "Uncle Sam will never raise my wages but once."

ALLEGREE RECOVERING.

Miss Goodwin's Pistol Shot Will Not Result Fatally.

Byron Allegree, the young man who was shot through the breast by Miss Fannie Goodwin at Fairview last Saturday, continues to improve and will recover. He is able to sit up and will soon be well enough to attend the trial of the young lady.

Miss Goodwin is not as stated a niece of Capt. W. S. Goodwin, of this city. Mr. W. A. P'Pool is her nearest relative living in Hopkinsville. The report that Mr. N. Wade was an eye-witness to the affair, standing in his store door, was incorrect. Mr. Wade was in the back end of the store when the trouble came up and did not know who shot until he heard the report and rushed to the front door to investigate.

The date for Miss Goodwin's examining trial has not been set. The opinion prevails that the case will be dismissed.

CASE COMPROMISED.

Ten Thousand Dollar Judgment
Against I. C. Settled.

In the case of the administratrix of Thos. Robertson, died, against the Illinois Central Railroad Company the suit has been compromised at $2,100. Young Robertson, an employe of the road, was killed by the cars in the yards here in November last and his mother brought suit for 25,000 damages. The case was tried in March and a judgment was rendered against the railroad company for $10,000. An appeal followed and the case has since been in the hands of the higher court.

TYPHOID PNEUMONIA

Causes the Death of a Well Known Citizen.

Mr. Robert Newcomb, a well known citizen, who had been living on Mr. R. S. Gary's farm for several years, died Wednesday night, after an illness of two weeks, of typhoid pneumonia. He was 50 years old and leaves a wife and three children. The body was interred in the Adams burying ground, three miles south of the city, yesterday.

Mrs. Gentry Hillman returned from Birmingham, Ala., Tuesday.
